It is unfortunate for the people and also for the cause of labor that the state of Illinois has a governor who is a mountebank and cares more for politics than he does for the good order of the state, the laws of which he is sworn to execute while he is not sworn to do the silly things he has been doing.

How to Build a House.

Mr. Lincoln in an address to a committee of workmen from New York in 1864 said: "Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, but let him labor diligently and build one for himself, thus by example assuring that his own shall be safe from violence when built." Here is the whole problem of success in a nutshell.

No man can build a house for himself, or accumulate property, except by economy and good management. The man who earns and receives $2 a day, or the man who earns $5 a day, or the man who earns $10 a day and saves none of it can never build a house. On the contrary, the man who gets but $2 a day and saves one-half or one-fourth of it can accumulate and become independent, while he who receives five or ten dollars a day, and spends it as fast as he gets it, is not as well off as the frugal citizen who receives but two dollars and saves money all the time. Houses are built and money laid up by frugality and not by tearing down the houses of another, nor by coveting that which another has accumulated. Then, as Mr. Lincoln suggests, if we who have no houses were to adopt a plan of pulling down other peoples houses in order to get houses of our own, it would be useless to build them as there would be no security for them after we had them.

The anarchistic or socialistic Demagogue who teaches an opposite doctrine, is a public enemy and the friend of nobody, and for that reason the incendiary war waged by partisans, for political effect, or by socialists for anarchistic effect on capital, must result in injury to the very people who are made to believe that it will prove beneficial to them.

There is no government in this world where there are such opportunities for the frugal and careful laborer to make himself independent as this government. In the life of this government millions of workmen, who began life penniless, have become independent by saving their own earnings and by judicious investment. This fact, which will not be denied, shows that millions more can do the same. In Europe the man who is a shoemaker is always a shoe maker. It is necessarily so in that country, but it is not true in this country. Any man of ordinary observation knows it is not true here, for in any community men in comfortable circumstances may be pointed out, by scores, who began life penniless.

Governments are not formed to give men a living, but to protect men in earning a living, and to secure them in their savings. Government may create conditions that increase the demand for labor and thus stimulate the employment of labor, but it cannot force men either to take advantage of such conditions or save their money. This is the business of the citizen himself. The idea of making somebody divide, which has been instilled into many of our people by a false philosophy, is pernicious and dangerous to any form of government, and if carried out to the extent of abridging individual security and freedom, the very people who advocate it now would be the first to cry out against it.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, July 10, 1894.

Republicans in the senate and house to a man support Mr. Cleveland in the stand he has taken against anarchy and in favor of law and order, but, to their shame, be it recorded, there are quite a number of Democrats in congress who stand with the protesting Democratic and Populist governors against the action of the administration. Among his opponents are, of course, the most of the extreme state's rights Democrats, and the Populists, whose public utterances have done much to encourage the spread of anarchy in this country, than all other causes combined. The question of the rightfulness or wrongfulness of the original strikers against the Pullman company, became a secondary consideration with everybody the moment the free passage of the U. S. mails was obstructed and the authority of U. S. courts defied.

The U. S. government has nothing whatever to do with the strikes of employees against individuals or corporations, but it has everything to do with the rights of the people of the several states to communicate with and to do business with each other at will, and Mr. Cleveland would have neglected his sworn duty had he done less than he has done. It isn't the rights of the strikers that are at stake, but the very life of republican institutions in America. Fortunately the number of men in Congress who are opposed to the position of the administration is too small to be a factor in any Congressional action that may become necessary, and as long as Mr. Cleveland stands for the preservation of law and order and maintaining the dignity and authority of the U. S. government he can count upon the support of Congress and of nine-tenths of the people regardless of their political opinions. There is no politics in the present situation; it is Americanism against anarchy.

It is clear that the Democratic members of the senate committee that investigated the sugar trust scandal are in no hurry to get their report before the senate, having failed to get either Senators Lodge, Davis or Allen to agree to a meaningless support that would practically dismiss the whole matter. The Republican senators propose making a report that will be in keeping with the evidence taken, and owing to the extreme nature of some conclusions drawn by Senator Allen he will probably make a separate report devoted largely to showing that the money which the sugar trust people admitted having contributed to state Democratic committees was actually used to help the National Democratic ticket and was so intended to be used. The Republican report will only agree with that of the Democratic senators in one thing—it will exonerate Secretary Carlisle from any blame for having at the request of Senator Jones written that sugar schedule. It will then show that the sugar trust controlled the making of the sugar schedule of the tariff bill and the passing of the bill. The report will make the most interesting sort of campaign document, and the Republican congressional campaign committee will see that it gets widely circulated.

The conference committee on the tariff bill held its first meeting to-day, in the Senate finance committee room. If the applause which the Democrats of the House gave Mr. Wilson, chairman of the ways and means committee, when he attacked the 643 Senate amendments to the tariff bill, meant anything it meant that the House is going to make a hard fight to knock out every one of those amendments which raises the duty or which puts a duty upon articles which were put on the free list by the original Wilson bill. Upon the result of that fight depends the fate of the tariff bill. If it is successful it is believed that the bill is doomed, unless the Gorman-Brice combine shall abjectly surrender, as every member of it has openly stated that they would not vote for the bill without the amendments they demanded and obtained from the Senate. It must not be forgotten that a loss of three votes in the Senate means the final defeat of the bill. The Republicans are not of course, expecting anything quite so good as that, but they will not be surprised if it happens, and you may be sure that they will do nothing to make the fight between the House and the Senate less bitter.

TUESDAY, JULY 10, 1894.

SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

The Democrats of the Forty-first District Name a Senatorial Ticket.

The delegates to the Democratic Senatorial convention met at the city council room at 11 o'clock this morning and selected Judge Creighton, of Taylorville, as temporary chairman, and C. C. LeForge, of Decatur, as temporary secretary.

W. A. Lee of Moultrie, W. L. Long of Christian and D. D. Hill of Macon were appointed a committee on resolutions. Hon. W. S. Smith of Macon, E. E. Lube of Moultrie and M. McLean of Christian, were appointed a committee on permanent organization. This being done the convention adjourned for dinner.

The convention was called to order at 1:30 o'clock when the committee on permanent organization reported in favor of making the temporary organization permanent. The motion was put by Hon. W. S. Smith and was unanimously adopted.

The report from the committee on resolutions was called for, but that committee not yet being ready the nomination of candidates was called for. The roll of counties was called for the nomination of a candidate for state senator, and when Macon county was reached A. G. Webber placed Hon. H. Manecke in nomination. There being no further nominations the nomination of Mr. Manecke was made by acclamation.

The nomination for representative being next in order, Murray McDonald of Moultrie, and A. B. Herdman of Christian county, were nominated by acclamation.

The nominees were presented to the convention and Senator Manecke and A. B. Herdman made speeches in defense of the party.

The committee on resolutions reported. The resolutions reaffirmed the principles of the party as announced in the state and national platform of 1892 and the state platform of 1894 and endorsed the course of Senator Manecke and Representative Herdman and Smith in the legislature. On the labor troubles the convention resolved:

That while deploring the present labor troubles of the country we declare that we are in favor of the principle of arbitration in the settlement of all differences between employer and employee.

The resolutions also made the chairman of the different county central committees the Senatorial committee. The convention then adjourned.

THE STRIKE IN DECATUR

Wabash Passenger Trains Moving and Freight Trains Sent Out.

Cowardly Assault Upon a Non-Union Engineer—Two Men Arrested.

Ugly Feeling at the Depot—The People Warned to Stay Away by the Deputy Marshals.

Brewster and Munce Set Free.

Everything was unusually quiet at the depot early this morning, very few spectators and no strikers being on the platform. There was hardly the usual number standing around that could be seen on any morning during times of peace.

Engineer Kater Badly Hurt.

The first important sensational violence to occur since the strike began in Decatur transpired last night at about 9 o'clock while the accommodation in charge of Conductor Sears was coming in from St. Louis. The non-union engineer was Felix Kater on engine 359. Making the curve at Mercer street Kater observed an obstruction on the track at that point which proved to be two heavy ties. The ties were knocked out of the way before the train stopped, and at this juncture a heavy missile, which might have been a rock, a car link, or a coupling pin was hurled at the engine cab which struck Kater on the head. He fell in a heap in the cab, yelling "murder" and calling for help in a voice which could be heard several blocks distance. People ran toward the train from every direction, and intense excitement prevailed. A baggage man got into the engine and ran the train to the depot. On the way in from Edward street stones, bottles and brick bats were thrown at the train and train men and passengers were considerably alarmed. When the train stopped at the depot the Wabash officials and deputy marshals were electrified on learning of the cowardly assault which had been made upon the unprotected engineer. Kater was led bleeding from his engine supported by two marshals to the Central House wash room, where Dr. Fithian attended him. It was believed at first that Kater had been fatally hurt, but he only received a severe scalp wound. The skull was laid bare and several stitches were necessary.

There was more or less talk in the crowd which had collected with surprising rapidity. Ballard and other deputies tried to get the crowd to disperse and threats were made to jail everybody if they did not go home at once. Then Ballard with two other marshals got into a carriage and drove rapidly to the point where Kater had been assaulted. They arrived at the Brewster place near Mercer street, where after a little parleying Joe Brewster, a plumber, and Chas. Munce, a painter, were arrested on suspicion of having been implicated in the assault. They were placed in jail. Both young men stoutly protested their innocence, but their protests went for naught. Munce, who is a son of George Munce, the carpenter, who resides in the 720 block on North College street, had been visiting Brewster during the evening. They saw the train go by and heard the cries of the engineer, but assert that they had no part whatever in the assault. It does not appear that they had any personal animosity toward the engineer, and their friends cannot believe that they threw the missile.

The Wabash will take extra precautions to guard the track and protect non-union men. Experience has taught them that they cannot afford to take any chances in this matter. Certainly they owe it to the new men and the traveling public that every possible precaution should be taken, and they should not rest until they run down and properly punish the rioters who made the villainous assaults last night.

Sheriff Perl was waited on this morning at the jail by Mrs. Brewster and Mr. Munce about 9:30 o'clock and a demand was made for the release of the prisoners. The sheriff stated he would be pleased to do so, if they could secure the papers for such a course, but that he was under orders and would have to wait until after the hearing.

Both Set Free.

This afternoon, after further consultation with the Wabash officials, Deputy Marshal Ballard and the attorneys for the young men, both Munce and Brewster were released from custody on the promise that they will behave themselves, though it does not appear that they have conducted themselves in an improper manner. Both young men went home.

Trains In and Out.

No. 9 to St. Louis due to leave at 6:30 left at 7 o'clock.

No. 43 to St. Louis due to leave at 4:05 o'clock, left at 6:30 o'clock.
No. 43 to Quincy due to leave at 4:30 o'clock, left at 7 o'clock.
No. 47 to Bluffs due to leave at 6:45, left at 7:15.

No. 46 left for Toledo at 6:15 on time.
No. 6 left for Chicago at 6:25 on time.
No. 44 and 4, from St. Louis, arrived on time to-day.
No. 44, from Quincy came in a few minutes late.

The Effingham trains arrived on time.

Twenty More Men.

On No. 43, from Toledo, which is due here at 3:50 o'clock, but which did not arrive here until 6:30, the Wabash imported 20 engineers to do service here and elsewhere on their system.

Attorney Winston.

Attorney Winston, the Wabash lawyer, returned to-day from Springfield, and is engaged in writing complaints preparatory to the swearing out of warrants.

More Deputies.

On No. 44, from the west this morning was noticed a large number of United States Marshals. They were from Springfield and were en route to points east.

Freights Moving.

The Litchfield accommodation, a local freight, left this morning for the south. This is the first freight out in 12 days. It always leaves at 6 o'clock, while this morning it did not pull out until 6:45 o'clock.

Struck the Gates.

The engineer on the Effingham division of the Wabash railroad, when the passenger pulled in this morning, struck the crossing gates and almost disabled one. An audible smile was noticed on the faces of the bystanders but no one ventured to laugh very loud.

Wabash Hotel.

The Wabash officials have rigged up a boarding place for their non-union employees in a Wabash dining car in the east yards. The eating car has been dubbed "The Wabash Hotel." Supt. Irish, of the dining car service, is in charge of the car. It is also intended by the officials to let sleeping cars for the benefit of their employees in the near future.

More Soldiers.

On No. 44 from Springfield this morning arrived six members of the Jacksonville company. They had been off on a visit when the order came for the company to go into the field and were telegraphed to by the captain. Upon arriving home they came on at once to Decatur.

The Night Service.

The officials of the Wabash authorize the statement that all night passenger trains will be started to-night.

The Freight Service.

After the Litchfield accommodation left this morning it was thought that that would be the only freight moved this morning, but at 10:50 the Springfield locals with a dozen coal cars pulled in and passed the depot. The switch engine No. 111 was active all morning in shunting about the yards and it is quite probable more freights will be gotten ready to go out this afternoon and evening.

Called to Chicago.

Lieut. Col. Wells and Surgeon Keeley departed last night for Chicago to take command of a detachment of the Fifth Regiment, I. N. G., summoned to Chicago yesterday. Captain Vickery of the Jacksonville company is now in command here.

Bloodshed at Danville.

DANVILLE, July 9.—This has been a day of much excitement in this city and Grape Creek. Two women who were at their homes were killed by bullets fired by the militia in an attempt to assist in moving a train, and two men were fatally wounded. The list is:

Mrs. Michael Glennen, killed at Grape Creek.

Miss Clara James, killed at Grape Creek.

H. M. Sealey, a brakeman, fatally wounded at Danville Junction.

Early this morning seven freight cars were burned in the upper end of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois R. R. yards, and about noon word came that the Shelbyville passenger train on the Chicago & Eastern Illinois, was stopped at Grape Creek, a mining settlement six miles south of here. A squad of militia was sent there to move the train. As soon as they arrived they were set on by a crowd, and the troops claim, they were fired upon first. The officers, who were in front, returned the fire and one man, whose name it is impossible to obtain, was fatally wounded. Two women were killed by stray bullets.

Their names are Miss Clara James and Mrs. Michael Glennen. Miss James was in her home at the organ and Mrs. Glennen was in her yard a short distance from the scene of trouble. The miners are greatly excited over the shooting and trouble is expected. The troops returned to Danville. Citizens met to organize to assist in dispersing the mob.

Mr. L. Burrows will have four night blooming cereus flowers open this evening at his residence, and invites all those interested to call and see them, from 8 to 10 o'clock.

It would be interesting to know what St. Gaudens, the sculptor, thinks of the U. S. Treasury Department.

A HOTEL BLOWN UP.

One Person Killed and Several Seriously Wounded.

PRAGUE, July 10.—A bomb was exploded in Pilsen Sunday evening in front of a hotel in which a number of members of a German society were holding a reunion. The front of the building was totally demolished. One of the members of the German society was killed and several were severely injured. The police in the course of their investigation found three other bombs in the vicinity of the court building. The fuses of these bombs were lighted but were extinguished in time to prevent an explosion.

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

(First Session.)

SENATE.

WASHINGTON July 9.—The naval appropriation bill was passed in the senate to-day, with very little friction or delay. There was one amendment offered which might have led to considerable debate, and that was for the construction of two new steel-armored cruisers at a cost not exceeding $2,000,000 each.

Mr. Gorman who is in charge of the bill, requested that the amendment should be withdrawn on the ground, first, that by 1890 the thirteen cruisers now in our navy were old and would be completed and would furnish a very respectable navy, and second, that in the present depressed condition of business and in the existing state of the treasury finances it was desirable to keep down expenses.

Mr. Daniel who had offered the amendment, recognized the force of the suggestions, and in accordance with Mr. Gorman's request, withdrew the amendment.

The blind chaplain of the senate, in his opening prayer invoked Divine restraints on the violence of lawless men who set themselves up against the statutes of the country; and immediately afterward the populist senator from Kansas, Mr. Pender, offered resolutions (which went over without action) all to-morrow looking to the government control of all railroads engaged in interstate commerce; to uniformity of transportation rates for freight and passengers throughout the country; to the government (or state) ownership and operation of coal beds, to the supply of money to the government alone; to a uniform rate of interest, and to raising all the revenue of the government by taxes on real estate.

Mr. Blanchard denied that he had played the part of conspirator with the vote on the passage of the tariff bill who contradicted the published statement to that effect.

The senate, at 4:30, adjourned till to-morrow.

HOUSE.

The committee on affairs of the district of Columbia held the attention of the house to-day, and succeeded in passing a bill to provide for the trial of the members of the committee on the charges of bribery and corruption.

An attempt to pass a bill to change the name of one of the Washington street railroads and increasing the power of the corporation to take a street car line was defeated by a vote of 150 yeas and 149 nays.

A bill was passed for the relief of the heirs and assigns of John P. Martiny and W. T. Dastbury, correcting an error in the survey of the Jefferson Barracks reservation, Carondelet, Mo.

At 4:55 the house adjourned until to-morrow.

THE PLOT THICKENS.

One Hundred Thousand Artisans to Join the Strike

AND WAR TO THE KNIFE DECLARED.

The Pullman Company, in Defense of a Principle, Refuses All Overtures and Entreaties for Arbitration—A Faithful Resolution.

CHICAGO, July 10.—It is war to the knife, and the knife to the hilt. The powers have spoken, and the most tremendous strike known to history will be inaugurated to-day when the evening whistles blow, and 100,000 men lay down their work, not to return until the Pullman boycott is settled.

Yesterday was the most quiet Chicago has experienced since the great Pullman boycott was declared. But it was the quiet that precedes the storm, and beneath the strange stillness could be seen the ominous rumblings of an industrial cyclone, threatening dread disaster and fearful destruction, a storm whose awful portent none may read, and whose vast consequences none may forecast.

The strike which has paralyzed traffic on the railroads for the past few weeks and wrought loss beyond computation to every interest in Chicago, will to-day be augmented by the practical cessation of all industry and the almost complete paralysis of commerce in and about the city.

All night Sunday and until the gray hours of Monday's dawn a great meeting, composed of delegates from all of the trades unions in Chicago, sat in Ulrich's hall, and wrestled with the problem confronting it. The question before the meeting was: "Shall the trades unions of Chicago strike in sympathy with the Pullman boycott, to the end that the principle of arbitration may win?"

It was a gathering of thoughtful men and their deliberations were marked for their calm earnestness. The gravity of the situation was fully apprehended.

It was determined that a last attempt be made to get the Pullman company to arbitrate its differences with its workmen, and a committee of seven was appointed to call upon the mayor with a view to securing the cooperation of business men in securing from the Pullman company the concession asked for—arbitration.

A brief meeting was held in the mayor's office, which adjourned to another meeting with the city council committee on arbitration.

At the last meeting Alderman McGillen, chairman of the council committee, made the suggestion that a committee be appointed who should investigate and determine whether the Pullman company's statement that there was nothing to arbitrate was true and just; that the committee be composed of two members named by the Pullman company, two to be named by the judges of the circuit court of Cook county, and the fifth by the four first chosen. The suggestion was adopted by the joint committee, and a subcommittee was appointed to present the proposition to the Pullman company. This committee was composed of the council committee—Alderman McGillen, Marrener, Mulheiser and Powers—and Messrs. Elderkin, Ryan and Lindholm, representing the trades unions.

The subcommittee repaired at once to the office of Vice-President Wickes of the Pullman company and requested an interview with that gentleman. It was granted, and then followed a scene which bids fair to rival in historic interest and importance any event in the history of labor. Every man present felt the same gravity of the hour, and the silence, through which the voices of the speakers seemed painfully distinct, was oppressive.

"Do you come as an official of the city?" Mr. Wickes asked the alderman.

"I do," replied Mr. McGillen.

"Do you represent the Mayor in this matter?" inquired the Baltimore official.

"The mayor will endorse our action here," the alderman replied.

Alderman McGillen was the spokesman. He addressed Mr. Wickes, and placed before him the proposition as authorized by the full committee.

Once, as the alderman asked for an instant, Mr. Wickes said: "The company cannot recede from the position it has already held."

The interjection aroused Alderman McGillen and he eloquently portrayed the situation in all its bearings and the inevitable consequences unless a settlement was reached. Mr. Wickes listened attentively. He seemed touched by the appeal, and when the spokesman had concluded, retired with Attorney John S. Russell, of the Pullman company, for consultation. The delay was of brief duration. When he returned, every one present read in the vice-president's stern face the fateful answer he would make. The feeling was intense and the little throng, composed of committeemen and members of the press and news associations, waited breathlessly for him to speak.

Addressing Alderman McGillen, Mr. Wickes said:

"The Pullman company has nothing to arbitrate."

Then there was a painful silence. Alderman McGillen seemed paralyzed for a moment. He could not believe the Pullman company would assume a responsibility so tremendously grave.

"Am I to understand," he slowly said, "that the Pullman company refuses this slight request, made at so great an hour, and upon which so much depends?"

"The Pullman company has nothing to arbitrate," reiterated Vice-President Wickes.

Alderman McGillen said, with great impressiveness:

"Mr. Wickes, your company demands the police protection of the federal government, the state of Illinois, the county of Cook and the city of Chicago, and yet you utterly ignore a fair request made by the city, a request the fundamental idea of which is the preservation of peace. We have come to you as conservators of peace, and you have assumed grave responsibility in thus refusing the request we make—a responsibility greater, perhaps, than even you are aware of."

"There is a principle involved in this matter," said Mr. Wickes, "which the Pullman company will not surrender. It is that employers must be permitted to run their business in their own way, and without interference from their employees or from anybody else. We shall not allow anyone to tell us how our business shall be conducted, and we shall not consent to arbitration. Our business is our own private affair, and we want no interference from federal, state or any other government."

"There was nothing more to say. One hundred thousand men will quit work to-night for an indefinite period, trusting that in their contest for the principle of arbitration they will win."

FIXING THE RESPONSIBILITY.

CHICAGO, July 9.—The council committee on arbitration and the committee of seven appointed by it met at 108 Madison street at 10:15 o'clock. T. J. Elderkin, of the Seamen's union, presided. Brief addresses were made by Delegates Haefliger, Lindholm and Currie, setting forth the position of the unions, and expressing a clear realization of the gravity of the present situation.

Alderman McGillen responded, briefly sketching the fruitless efforts of the committee on arbitration, and concluding with the suggestion that as the Pullman company had said there was nothing to arbitrate, a committee of five to investigate that statement be appointed, which should inquire into all the facts and discover if there be grounds for arbitration. He moved that it be the sense of the meeting that such a committee should be selected, and that two members be named by the Pullman company, two by the judges of the circuit court of Cook county, the fifth member to be named by the four so chosen.

The meeting voted unanimously in favor of his proposition, and a committee composed of Aldermen McGillen, Marrener, Mulheiser and Powers, and Delegates Elderkin, Ryan and Lindholm were appointed to lay the proposition before Vice-President Wickes, of the Pullman company, for his acceptance or rejection, and to report at 4:30 p. m.

"We shall make this offer to the Pullman company," said Alderman McGillen, "as representatives of the city of Chicago and its laboring interest. If the company rejects it there will no longer be doubt as to where the responsibility for this grave trouble rests."

SENSIBLE SARGENT.

The True Foundation Upon Which Labor Organizations Must Rest for Success.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 10.—Grand Master Sargent of the locomotive firemen says:

"I have no statement to make at this time to the United Press concerning the present American Railway union strike, except what I have said in line with the rule of our organization, which I have tried to emphasize from time to time. Our order has nothing to do with this strike, and I am trying to keep our members from getting tangled up in it any more than is necessary. At many points both engineers and firemen have taken part in it, and I have received many telegrams from firemen asking me to declare a sympathetic strike. These men have seemingly forgotten the rules of our order. I am fearful of the result to labor organizations, whether this strike wins or is lost, for the radical measures adopted may serve to prejudice the people against labor organizations—a prejudice that may take years to overcome, for the success of any order of laboring men must depend at its foundation on the good will of the people at large."

RETURNED TO WORK.

Want Congress to Pass a Law Making Arbitration Compulsory.

DETROIT, Mich., July 10.—The yardmen and switchmen of the Union Station association last night decided to return to work. This action together with that taken by the Michigan Central employees in practically settling the railroad strike here. It is probable that the yardmen in the Brush street depot will return to work to-day.

A monster sympathy mass meeting of labor unions was held at the Auditorium here last night, fully 6,000 enthusiastic people being present. Mayor Pingree made an address on arbitration, and all the local labor leaders made speeches bitterly denouncing George M. Pullman. A resolution was adopted asking congress to pass immediate measures to pass an act making it compulsory for employers and employees to submit all labor differences to a board of arbitration.

Troops for Coast of Alaska Country.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Senators Dubois and Shoup called upon President Cleveland, Secretary Lamont and Gen. Schofield yesterday, and after a brief conference succeeded in having an order issued sending the United States troops at Fort Sheridan to the Coast of Alaska country.

Ordered to Quit Work.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 9.—Local union No. 3, American Railway union, composed of Baltimore and Ohio railway employees, numbering about 350 men, received an order to-night from President Debs to come to work. It is thought that the order will be obeyed.

BLACKS AND WHITES.

A Desperate Conflict at Scottsdale, Pennsylvania.

NEGRO MINERS ATTACKED BY STRIKERS

Accept the Gage of Battle, and Arming Themselves with Revolvers, Razors and Clubs, Return to the Fight—Chased by the Whites.

SCOTTSDALE, Pa., July 10.—Three negroes employed at the Painter works of the McClure Coke Co. came to Scottsdale yesterday afternoon. As soon as their presence became known, strikers attacked and drove them over into a ravine. Shots were exchanged, but none was injured. The negroes went back to the coke works, where plans were made to raid this town last night.

The 150 negroes at the Painter works armed themselves with revolvers, razors and clubs and at 8 o'clock marched to town and lined up on North Broadway. Two of their number were sent ahead down the street, expecting the strikers to attack them. The two had orders to retreat back out Broadway where the crowd remained in readiness to meet the pursuers and fire into them.

The two negroes did not return, and becoming impatient, the crowd marched down the street, flourishing their clubs, revolvers and razors, howling like Indians. They halted in front of the Kromer house. Joseph Carter, a colored cook at one of the hotels, jumped out into the street and shouted: "Let us clean out the town." A Hungarian standing in front of the hotel was at once attacked, and before he could be rescued he was badly cut on the shoulder, side and thigh with a razor.

Burgess John Robertson appeared on the scene and commanded the mob to disperse. A negro deliberately fired three shots at him and another struck him with a stone.

This was a signal for a battle, and a crowd of at least 500 citizens rushed in on the negroes. The negroes retreated shooting back into the crowd, and at least 500 shots were fired. The citizens scoured revolvers and guns and chased the negroes up through Pastime park, keeping up a hot fire. The negroes escaped through the woods to the works.

David Munday, a colored man from Pittsburgh, was left behind probably fatally wounded, being shot in the head. He was brought back to town. Another negro was wounded, but his companions carried him away. A strike leader known as "Dutch Davy" had one finger cut off by a blow from a razor. Pat McAtee was struck in the head with a brick and severely injured. It is reported that at least a dozen negroes were wounded, and that one negro was killed.

Joseph Carter, the colored man, was arrested on a charge of inciting riot and placed in the lock-up.

When David Munday was carried into town, threats to lynch him were freely made and would have been put into effect had it not been for Burgess Robertson, who addressed the crowd and advised them to respect the law.

At 9 o'clock a report reached town that the negroes, in command of Sam Ford, an ex-deputy sheriff, were coming back to town and the citizens prepared for a battle. The burgess called on the Sons of Veterans. They appeared on the streets armed with guns and were joined by a company of sixty army men who came up from Everston. There were at least 1,000 armed men in the streets.

Some of the hotheads wanted to march to the works and kill all the negroes in the neighborhood. When it became known that the negroes came only as far as Kiltown and returned to the coke works, the crowd quieted down.

Burgess Robertson took command and placed pickets armed with Winchester rifles around the town, and a special guard at the lock-up, to protect the imprisoned negroes. A reserve force of 100 armed men were selected from the crowd of citizens, and were quartered in the opera house to await orders.

JUSTICE MISCARRIES.

Local Prejudice Distorts a Verdict at Variance with the Facts.

HAMMOND, Ind., July 10.—Anthony S. Eldier, coroner of Lake county, inquired on the body of Charles Fleischer, who was shot by a federal soldier Sunday. The jury was empaneled in the city hall. The mayor and members of the council and a large number of citizens were present. The testimony given by three witnesses, one of them, a brother-in-law of the victim, showed that the soldiers commenced the shooting without any warning on a moving train in the direction of the crowd, which had thrown a rope around a Pullman car in the effort to upset it in the way of the soldiers.

The witnesses testified that Fleischer was standing two blocks away from the Pullman car when the soldiers began to shoot.

The verdict of the jury found that Fleischer came to his death by accident, caused by company D, 68th regiment of infantry, U. S. A., shooting wantonly and carelessly into a peaceable crowd.

The Mayor of Detroit's Plan.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 10.—Mayor McKenna received the following telegram from H. O. Pingree, mayor of Detroit, yesterday: "Will you join with me in requesting George M. Pullman to settle this grave difficulty by arbitration? Have telegraphed to majority of fifty cities. Please answer giving your views."

Mayor McKenna would reply as soon as the message was received. He favored arbitration.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

Capt. Brand of the Chicago Hussars, forty mounted men, offered the services of his command to Mayor Hopkins yesterday.

All passenger trains on the Michigan division of the Big Four were yesterday running on schedule time and the strike seemed to be at an end so far as that road was concerned.

At Denver, Col., yesterday, Judge Hallise sentenced Albert Schenck, a Chicagoan, to six months in the county jail for disturbing the peace by a lecture on the strike, accompanied with a severe lecture. Seventy other cases are to be tried.

A little melee occurred yesterday morning on the Pittsburgh & Fort Wayne in the vicinity of the Garfield street crossing. Chicago, but the bombardment of stones was speedily stopped by the police who charged the mob.

The garden of troops at Fort Douglas, Utah, is now divided between the county jail for contempt, accompanied with a severe lecture. Seventy other cases are to be tried.

Maj. Gen. Schofield received a dispatch yesterday from Gen. Miles, stating that there were three separate conflicts at Hammond, Ind., during Sunday night. Several people were killed and a number of others were captured.

A Santa Fe locomotive, No. 31, at Chicago, was threatened with a dynamite bomb. The dynamite was thrown into the fire box. Both engineer and fireman were injured.

In accordance with Mayor Hopkins' request for more troops, Gov. Altgeld yesterday ordered out all remaining troops—the fourth infantry and part of the fifth infantry—and gave instructions to proceed at once to Chicago.

At 3 a. m. yesterday 100 meat wagons belonging to the largest packers in the Union stock yards left for the down-town districts loaded with supplies for the branch market, from which the bulk of the retail trade of Chicago is supplied.

Lieut. Com. B. F. Shaffer of the first battalion naval militia, of Chicago, 300 men, tendered the services of his battalion to Mayor Hopkins yesterday. It was accepted, and the command ordered to protect the water cribs and waterworks with crews in steam launches.

General Master Workman Sovereign of the Knights of Labor said yesterday morning he had determined to delay the command for a strike of his order until Wednesday. He said: "I make this postponement to await the outcome of the more of Chicago trades unions."

The Roman Catholic hierarchy of Austria and Hungary have received notice from Rome that the physical condition of the pope is alarming, and the cardinals have been warned to be ready to assemble at the Vatican at a moment's notice.

The strike situation on the Wabash at Peru, Ind., grows worse, and engineers and firemen are now all out. Sunday afternoon, taken there to take their places, but no hotel or restaurant in the city would feed them, and food had finally to be brought from Logansport.

A special President H. B. Lydard of the Michigan Central issued a circular to all employees of the line stating that if any employee was not at his post of duty yesterday morning he would be discharged. When the hour arrived every yardman and switchman was on duty.

Capt. Pankhouse, of the Chicago city troops, thirty-five mounted men, called on Mayor Hopkins just before noon yesterday and tendered the services of the troops, which the mayor accepted, and ordered the captain to report to Col. Turner, of the first regiment, I. N. G., at Hyde Park.

A special bearing a committee of railway employees of the different orders other than the American Railway union went south from Denver, Col., yesterday morning for the purpose of conferring with employees on strike. All who returned to work yesterday were given their former position. This ends the strike.

Speaking of President Cleveland's proclamation Gen. Harrison yesterday said: "It is the first time in the history of the United States government that a president has ordered federal troops into a state without the request of the governor of such state and over his protest." He did not question his right to do so, however.

ARRIVED ON TIME.

But the Pullmans Looked as Though They Had Been Through the Mills.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 10.—For the first time since Wednesday morning, the limited arrived in Pittsburgh on time yesterday. The baggage car and one sleeper bore the marks of great violence, many windows being smashed and the sides of the cars being scarred and pierced by bullets.

Train No. 8, day express, also arrived on time. There were three Chicago sleepers on the limited, carrying thirty-four passengers. There were forty passengers occupying the sleeping cars on the day express.

Up to 12 o'clock nothing had transpired indicating a tie-up at this point of any of the railroads entering Pittsburgh. On the Baltimore & Ohio road all was quiet, trains arriving and departing on time.

Miners Agree on Strike.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 10.—Owing to the many disputes in the mining trade, the men at several mines who were at work have struck again, and other strikes are threatened in the Pittsburgh district.

The Walston miners at Piquette yesterday went to work again yesterday morning, and no further trouble is anticipated in that field.

At the leading mines in the Mahoning valley the miners are again out on strike. They say the operators must resign the scale before work will resume.

A Harbor Full of Coal-Laden Vessels.

DULUTH, Minn., July 10.—The harbor is filled with half a hundred vessels, more than two-thirds of which have coal cargoes. The companies have secured a few nonunion men to unload boats, but they can scarcely make an impression. The rush of coal to this port has just begun, and unless the strike is speedily settled the tied-up fleet will assume big proportions.

The Chicago papers and messages sent to Washington report Mayor Hopkins as criticizing the course of the president. It would be better for all concerned if the governor and the Chicago mayor were to act in union with the president in his effort to execute the laws. Quibbling in such times as these can help nobody. The chances are the government will not abdicate unless it is compelled to do so by force, and criticism of the course of the government in this emergency can do no good.

The silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Reeme was pleasantly celebrated last evening at the family home, 876 North Church street. The couple were married July 9, 1869, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Strausbaugh, in Decatur, by Rev. J. B. Soule. In doing the honors last night the couple was assisted by Mrs. Geo. F. Bell and Misses Clara and Myrtle Reeme, Misses Hallie Reeme and Bernice Huff, and Messrs. Arthur Spence and Joseph Reeme, who received in the dining room where a fine supper was served. The house was decorated in blue and white, and little bunches of sweet peas were given as souvenirs. A large number of very handsome presents, most of which were silverware, were received. Last evening there were present about 100 guests, seven of whom attended the wedding of the host and hostess.

STUCK BY A CAR

M. B. Hall, who is quite deaf and resides at 353 North Main street, met with serious injury this morning at about 7 o'clock opposite his home. He had gone to the meat market and was on his way home, crossing the street from the east side, nearly opposite the postoffice. At the time a depot car was coming down from Lincoln square with Pete Biley in charge. Reports vary as to how rapidly the car was running. Usually the cars go pretty fast down that stretch of track at that hour in the day. Mr. Hall was struck by the dash board and hurled on the west side of the track. He was picked up and carried into his home where he was attended by Dr. E. H. Walston, who found the old man's right jawbone had been broken in two places, with bad bruises on his face and his right hand and wrist hurt. The injuries were promptly dressed. Mr. Hall will recover.

President Cleveland Issues Another Proclamation.

COMMANDING THE PEACE OF THE STATE

And the Dispersion to Their Homes of All Peaceable Citizens Wherever Mob Rule is Arrived Against Constitutional Government.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The president last evening followed up his proclamation of Sunday night by issuing another of the same tenor, but more general in its application. The proclamation is as follows:

By the president of the United States of America.

A Proclamation.

WHEREAS, by reason of unlawful obstructions, combinations and assemblages of persons, it has become impracticable, in the judgment of the president, to enforce, by the ordinary course of judicial proceedings, the laws of the United States at certain points and places within the states of North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington, Wyoming, Colorado and California, and the territories of Utah and New Mexico, and especially along the lines of such railways traversing said states and territories, as are military roads and post routes, and are engaged in interstate commerce and in carrying United States mails; and

WHEREAS, for the purpose of enforcing the faithful execution of the laws of the United States and protecting property belonging to the United States or under its protection, and of preventing obstructions of the United States mails and of commerce between the states and territories, and of securing to the United States the right guaranteed by law to the use of such roads for postal, military, naval and other government service, the president has employed a part of the military forces of the United States;

Now, therefore, I, Grover Cleveland, president of the United States, do hereby command all persons engaged in, or in any way connected with such unlawful obstructions, combinations and assemblages, to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective abodes, on or before 3 o'clock in the afternoon on the 10th day of July instant;

And I direct the military forces of the United States, wherever I have heretofore set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be hereto affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this 9th day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and nineteenth.

(Signed) GROVER CLEVELAND.

By the President, W. Q. GERRARD, Secretary of State.

The decision to issue such a proclamation was made yesterday morning and part of the day was given up to arranging its terms. Last night Secretary Lamont, Attorney-General Olney, Postmaster-General Bissell and Maj. Gen. Schofield, met the president at the White House and expressed satisfaction with the scope of the manifesto which they had a share in perfecting. The conference last night was devoted largely to a discussion of the new phase of the situation consequent upon the failure of the arbitration negotiations and the decision of the trades unions to join the American Railway union in its strike.

The president yesterday received another certification from the governor of Idaho respecting the necessity for federal troops to maintain order in that state. This was supplemented by semi-official dispatches to the Idaho senators from Judge Beatty, the United States judge for the district of Idaho, and from other persons in the state, requesting to urge upon the president the need of troops in the Coeur d'Alene region.

Senators Shoup and Dubois took these dispatches to the White House last night and had a talk with the secretary of war and Maj. Gen. Schofield on the subject.

It seems that Gov. McConnel's dispatch to the president, received Monday, is not quite in accord with the requirements of the constitution in such emergencies, but troops will undoubtedly be dispatched from Fort Sheridan to the scene of the troubles.

THE LOOTERS AT LADD.

Further Depredations by the Non-English-Speaking Striking Miners.

LADD, Ill., July 9.—Two stores were looted at this place this afternoon by a mob of 400 non-English-speaking miners. The city is being guarded tonight by fifty deputy sheriffs. National banks have removed their valuables from the city, and many of the business houses have closed temporarily.

Reports from the surrounding districts are to the effect that the anarchists of Peru, La Salle and other towns are moving toward Spring Valley, where a midnight attack on the place. The town is now guarded by the Rock Island and Galesburg militia companies, 124 men, and by 125 deputies. One hundred extra deputies from Princeton have been ordered to Spring Valley, and they will arrive during the night. Half the population of Bureau county is remaining up to-night in the various towns receiving the latest reports from the seat of trouble.

The greatest apprehension is felt for the safety of the men who have gone forward. Ninety deputies are on guard at Seatonville to-night. Everything is quiet at that point, as it is thought a large part of the men have left the place for Spring Valley.

Will Give Warning Before They Act.

TOLEDO, O., July 9.—Supt. J. M. Morris met the men on the division of the Pennsylvania road this morning and asked them what they were going to do. He told them that if they remained at work they would be protected fully at the point of the bayonet if necessary, and that the road would do everything in its power to protect them. The men promised to take no part in the strike at present and said, if anything further came up in the future they would come to him and consult about the matter before taking action.

Rejoiced the Mob.

SEATONVILLE, July 10.—The banderath has rejected the bill repealing the anti-Jewish laws.

HEARING ARGUMENTS.

The Jury May Get the Murder Case This Evening to Find a Verdict.

The evidence on both sides in the B. Creekmur murder case was closed last evening, and Attorney C. C. Lefor goes opened for The People, closing his argument this forenoon. He was followed by W. C. Johns for the defense, and C. A. Ewing and Hugh Creech will speak for Creekmur. State's Attorney Mills will close the case.

MONDAY, JULY 9.—AFTERNOON.

Emery McKee was put on the stand and examined by Mr. Johns. He testified as follows: "I know Christopher Minkick and have seen the black stallion that he owned; the horse tried to kick me when I went in his stall, and jumped around a good deal."

George Patterson testified: "I saw the black stallion at Boyd's house; the horse acted mean and jumped around the stall." In the cross-examination the witness said he was Creekmur's cousin.

Ramuel Stabler gave the following testimony when examined by Mr. Johns: "Have been at Sherman Jones' place, two miles east of Warrensburg; was there about two weeks ago; saw the horse at that time, and once again at Warrensburg; he acted vicious both times, and from my observation I would say that he was a mean and dangerous animal."

Sherman Jones was again called to the stand by the prosecution. He gave the following additional testimony: "Saw Willis Wentworth in Halpin's saloon when the grand jury was in session. (He was asked by Mr. Mills if he told Wentworth that he and Williams were paid $15 per month for taking care of the stallion, and that they did not own him. This question was objected to by the attorneys for the defense, and the objection was sustained.) I don't think that Williams said to Mr. Mills that he would not say anything about the horse till he went on the witness stand."

Harry Hummelwright was also called to the stand by Mr. Mills and said that he and Fred Miller went to Jones' place a few days ago.

Mr. Creech objected to the examination of the witness at this point on the ground that the question of the character of the horse was exhausted in the examination in chief and that the prosecution had no right to bring up this point. Mr. Mills said that the examination was to prove Jones' testimony false and the witness was allowed to testify. The witness said that he sat on the manger and took hold of the horse's forelock and he didn't make any attempt to bite. Jones was talking to Miller at the time. Mr. Johns asked the witness why he went to Jones' place. He said that nobody sent him to see the horse; he just went on his own accord; he told A. T. Summers that he had been out there but he did not go out as an agent for Summers.

A written statement of John Creekmur's testimony at the second inquest was introduced as evidence. The signature on the statement was acknowledged by Creekmur as his own.
